DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 2-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite. The recitations "elongated member having first and second ends", and "first and second ends are each adapted to attach to said elongated member" in combination renders the claim scope unascertainable. Are the ends part of the elongated member or not? The claim is unclear since it is unknown whether the elongated member has ends or if it is attached to separate components that are being called ends. This claim is confusing, unclear and indefinite. Its treatment with respect to prior art will be as best understood by the examiner. Claims 2, 4, and 5 are likewise rejected, since depending on an indefinite claim makes them likewise indefinite.

Claim 2 is additionally indefinite since it is unknowable whether the recitation "is removable" intends the blade to be removable from the elongated member, or from the first end. The scope of the claim is unknowable.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 2 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Pesko (2,918,924).

Regarding claims 2 and 5, Pesko discloses a manicuring appliance (figure 14) comprising an elongated member (74,76, 78 figure 14) coupled to first (90) and second (86 figure 14) 'ends' the ends adapted to receive a cutting member (92 figure 14; in a position to cut an arcuate path) and a pusher (86 or 87), respectively. The cutting member has at least one cutting edge spaced from a safety barrier (see edge 92, when it is folded it is spaced from the back of the folded knife handle, and since the back of the knife handle in this folded position prevents a user from contacting the blade-it may rightly construe a safety barrier, see figures 15 and 14 especially). The pusher is capable of shaping a human cuticle to prepare it for cutting or other manicuring steps.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 3-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Pesko in view of Grisso (2,534,666).

Regarding claims 3 and 4, Pesko discloses that the blade is removable, i.e. by drilling out the rivet. Pesco does not teach, for example, the readily removable, hand removable, or removable and re-attachable configuration applicant has presented, HOWEVER, this too is obvious.

Grisso teaches a blade arrangement where the blade is retained by a retaining cap (8) and screw.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to use a screw and retention cap (a washer for example would be considered a 'retention cap') as taught by Grisso in place of the rivet. The motivation is to allow for the convenient disposal and replacement of blades (column 1 lines 22-27).

Conclusion

4. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
